

Problem: Park Sculptures

People are vandalizing public sculptures in the park late at night, after park security guards have gone home. The artist who loaned the sculptures to the park is upset. He has had to hire work crews to remove spray paint from the sculptures several times.